

By removing the "established business relationship" qualification from the fax regulations is absurd and makes it difficult and burdensome for us to communicate with our members. This seems like another set of "hoops" to jump through and will make association management difficult because we will be bothering our members to get written consent forms on a regular basis.